DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election with traverse of the restriction requirement in the reply filed on Sep. 19, 2005 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that there is no additional burden on the examiner and that the examiner would be required to search the product and the process or all the species. This is not found persuasive because the product and the process, as well as all the species, are patentably distinct from one another as asserted in last office action.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Further, claims 11-17 are withdrawn from further consideration. These claims are not readable on elected species figure 3.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 2, 10, 26 and 34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 2 is confusing. From claim 1 it is understood that "An assembly for a panel" is being claimed. Later in claim 2, it is not clear whether "a panel comprises a window" is in fact a positive limitation or just an environmental limitation. For examination purpose, any claim depending from claim 1 will be treated as claiming "An assembly" subcombination.

Art Unit: 3677

In claim 10, line 2, "concentric with the body" is vague and indefinite since the geometry of the body or of the surface is not clearly given to define "concentric".

Note similar errors in claims 26 and 34.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Art Unit: 3677

5. Claims 1, 2, 4-8, 10, 18-21, 23-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by EP 0674082A1. Note that intended used, for a sliding panel, is given no patentable weight.

6. Claims 1, 2, 4-8, 10, 18-26, 28, 29, 31-34, and 36-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Rovtar (6,826,878, filed on Jun. 15, 2002).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claims 9 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over EO 0674082A1.

EO discloses the invention as claimed but for the locking lip extending from the positioning guide. However, EO shows a locking lip (8) extending from the body to lock the assembly in an aperture. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to form a lip from the positioning guide, since it has been held that rearranging parts of an invention involves only routine skill in the art. In re Japikse, 86 USPQ 70.

As to claim 22, EO does not show a plastic assembly. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to form the assembly with plastic. It is known in the mechanical art that plastic is a modern substitute for metal where strength, durability and resistance to corrosion are desired.

And, it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious design choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416.

Conclusion

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
